

UNIT 7

Section 1: Ask questions with the words in brackets. Use either How much? or How many?.

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 Apples/you/have/in the fridge? | 6 Steaks/you/want/for dinner? |
| 2 Butter/he/need/to make breakfast? | 7 Onions/we/want to buy? |
| 3 Sugar/they/take/into their coffee? | 8 Eggs/she/have in her bag? |
| 4 Rice/you/want/with your chicken? | 9 Ice cream/they/eat a week? |
| 5 Milk/she/drink/for lunch? | 10 Wine/Sue/drink a month? |

Section 2: Answer the questions in 1 with not much or not many.

Section 3: Use too + adjective to express an amount greater than needed.

- | | |
|---------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 The tea/be/cold. | 5 The shellfish/be/spicy. |
| 2 The sausage/be/salty. | 6 The steaks/be/raw. |
| 3 The waiter/be/noisy. | 7 The coffee/be/hot. |
| 4 The chocolate/be/sweet. | 8 The meal/be/expensive. |

Section 4: Form questions from the sentences in 1.

Section 5: Form the plural of the following nouns.

- | | | | |
|------------|----------|-----------|------------|
| 1 waitress | 4 corn | 7 spinach | 10 lettuce |
| 2 menu | 5 potato | 8 tip | 11 bean |
| 3 salt | 6 rice | 9 dessert | 12 garlic |

Section 6: Transform the sentences into the negative. Use much or many instead of a lot of.

- 1 She has a lot of coffee. 2 They have a lot of eggs. 3 We bought a lot of sugar. 4 He sold a lot of steaks. 5 They made a lot of salad. 6 The waiter brought a lot of milk. 7 The guests ate a lot of lettuce. 8 They had a lot of chicken. 9 She eats a lot of cheese. 10 They drank a lot of wine.

Section 7: Fill the gaps in the sentences with either some or any.

- 1 Do you need _____ lemons? 2 No, we don't want _____ carrots. 3 She doesn't drink _____ coffee. 4 We don't have _____ beer at home. 5 They ate _____ oranges yesterday. 6 She bought _____ fish. 7 They sold _____ rice. 8 He made _____ sausages for breakfast. 9 We cooked _____ delicious meals last week. 10 He made _____ tomato soup and _____ shellfish.

Section 8: Answer the questions with none.

- 1 How much beer do you drink a day? 2 How many steaks do you eat a week? 3 How much bread do you eat a fortnight? 4 How many bananas do you eat in the morning? 5 How many cups of coffee do you drink a month? 6 How much chocolate do you consume a week?

Section 9: Answer the questions. Always use a full answer.

- 1 What's the difference between beer and a beer? 2 What's the opposite of raw? 3 What's the female word for waiter? 4 What's the difference between coffee and a coffee? 5 Is fruit a countable noun? 6 Is vegetable an uncountable noun? 7 Is a dessert a place where there is hardly any water and where people die of thirst, such as the Sahara Desert? 8 Do we use many with uncountable nouns? 9 Do we use too + adjective to express an amount greater than needed? 10 Is chocolate a countable noun? 11 What's a tip (meaning: money)? 12 Do we use any in positive sentences? 13 Who says Can I help you, sir? 14 What does the other person answer to the question in sentence 13? 15 How do we call pounds in informal English? 16 How do we write the word '%'? 17 When you don't want to smoke in a restaurant, which section can you ask to sit in? 18 What's the difference between coffee and a café? 19 Do we pronounce the sound /i/ in the word fruit?

ANSWERS

Section 1

1 How many apples do you have in the fridge? 2 How much butter does he need to make breakfast? 3 How much sugar do they take into their coffee? 4 How much rice do you want with your chicken? 5 How much milk does he drink for lunch? 6 How many steaks do you want for dinner? 7 How many onions do we want to buy? 8 How many eggs does she have in her bag? 9 How much ice cream do they eat a week? 10 How much wine does Sue drink a month?

Section 2

1 We don't have many apples in the fridge. 2 He doesn't need much butter to make breakfast. 3 They don't take much sugar into their coffee. 4 I don't want much rice with my chicken. 5 He doesn't drink much milk for lunch. 6 I don't want many steaks for dinner. 7 We don't want to buy many onions. 8 She doesn't have many eggs in her bag. 9 They don't eat much ice cream a week. 10 Sue doesn't drink much wine a month.

Section 3

1 The tea is too cold. 2 The sausage is too salty. 3 The waiter is too noisy. 4 The chocolate is too sweet. 5 The shellfish is too spicy. 6 The steaks are too raw. 7 The coffee is too hot. 8 The meal is too expensive.

Section 4

1 Is the tea too cold? 2 Is the sausage too salty? 3 Is the waiter too noisy? 4 Is the chocolate too sweet? 5 Is the shellfish too spicy? 6 Are the steaks too raw? 7 Is the coffee too hot? 8 Is the meal too expensive?

Section 5

1 waitresses	4 no plural	7 no plural	10 no plural
2 menus	5 potatoes	8 tips	11 beans
3 no plural	6 no plural	9 desserts	12 no plural

Section 6

1 She doesn't have much coffee. 2 They don't have many eggs. 3 We didn't buy much sugar. 4 He didn't sell many steaks. 5 They didn't make much salad. 6 The waiter didn't bring much milk. 7 The guests didn't eat much lettuce. 8 They didn't have much chicken. 9 She doesn't eat much cheese. 10 They didn't drink much wine.

Section 7

1 any 2 any 3 any 4 any 5 some 6 some 7 some 8 some 9 some 10 some, some

Section 8

1 (I drink) none. 2 (I eat) none. 3 (I eat) none. 4 (I eat) none. 5 (I drink) none. 6 (I consume) none.

Section 9

1 The difference between beer and a beer is that beer is a type of drink while a beer is a glass or bottle of beer. 2 The opposite of raw is cooked. 3 The female word for waiter is waitress. 4 The difference between coffee and a coffee is that coffee is a type of drink while a coffee is a cup of coffee. 5 No, fruit isn't a countable noun but it's an uncountable noun. 6 No, vegetable isn't an uncountable noun but it's a countable noun. 7 No, a dessert isn't a place where there is hardly any water and where people die of thirst, such as the Sahara Desert but a dessert is a kind of meal. 8 No, we don't use many with uncountable nouns but we use it with countable nouns. 9 Yes, we use too + adjective to express an amount greater than needed. 10 No, chocolate isn't a countable noun but it's an uncountable noun. 11 A tip is the money we pay to somebody for a good service. 12 No, we don't use any in positive sentences but we use it in negative and interrogative sentences. 13 A waiter or a waitress says Can I help you, sir. 14 The other person (the customer) answers Yes, please. or No, thank you to the question. 15 We call pounds in informal English quid. 16 We write the word '%' per cent. 17 When I don't want to smoke in a restaurant I can ask to sit in a non-smoking section. 18 The difference between coffee and a café is that coffee is a drink while a café is the place where you can drink coffee. 19 No, we don't pronounce the sound /i/ in the word fruit.